Weekend Workshops for Couples at the Clinic of Applied Psychology

“Getting the Love You Want”

A transformative weekend for couples developed by
Harville Hendrix, PhD and Helen Hunt, PhD

A 2 day workshop for all Couples

This internationally respected workshop has been attended by thousands of couples in 52 countries around the world!

This workshop is for you if...

- You want to deepen your connection and ability to communicate...
- You know that something needs to change but you aren't sure what...
- You want to get a new Relationship off to a solid start...
- You are trying to decide if this Relationship can or should be saved...
- You want to bring passion and compassion back into your Relationship...

Transform your conflicts into opportunities for growth!

Personal work is done privately with your partner. This is an education experience for couples NOT group therapy.

Comments from previous participants:

« This is hands-down the best thing we have done for our relationship- worth all the effort and planning, 100%»

« It was a wonderful workshop full of gems to keep the connection and spark in our marriage. »

The tools we learned in the workshop allow me to know my partner on a deeper level.»
